Nazareth Suite

Seating that connects people and place

Designed for connection

Support social interaction for individuals and groups

Create a cohesive look and feel across a park, campus or precinct, with forms that sit comfortably in both green and urban landscapes.

The Nazareth modular seating suite is designed to turn everyday outdoor spaces into places where people choose to gather, relax and connect. Bringing sculptural forms, robust construction and New Zealand made quality together in one flexible solution.

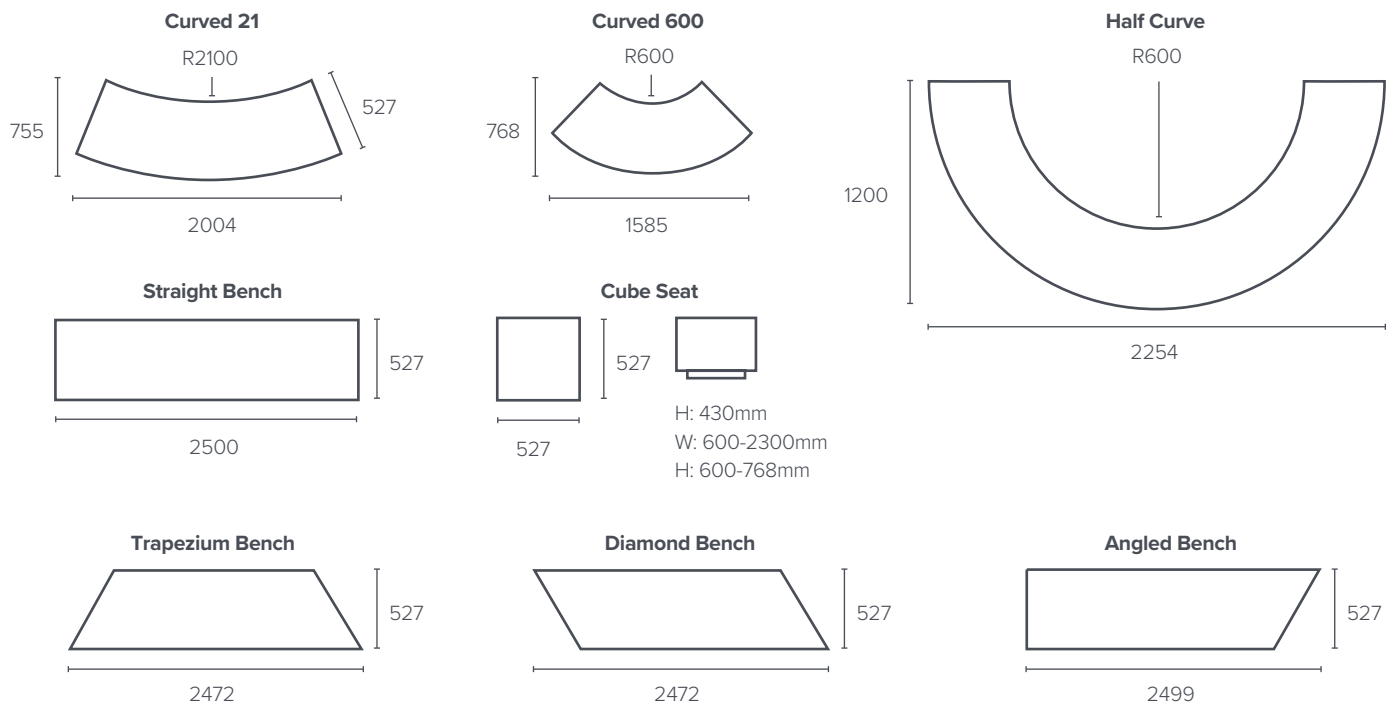

An ideal choice for:

- ✓ Parks and reserves
- ✓ Commercial, retail and cultural precincts
- ✓ Urban streetscapes
- ✓ Schools and universities
- ✓ Transport hubs
- ✓ Residential developments

Your space, your style

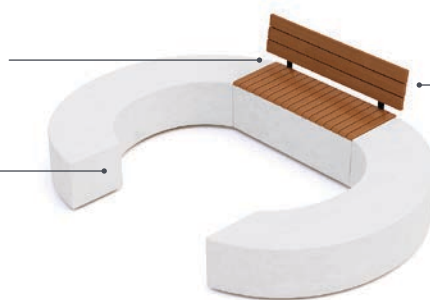

Customise layouts, finishes and features to create seating that feels made for your site and the people who use it.

Built for comfort and performance

Galvanised steel frame for structural support and long service life

Solid precast concrete block base for strength and stability

Premium hardwood timber slats for natural warmth and extra comfort

Surface mounted for straightforward installation

Add a finishing touch

Incorporate patterns or graphics into the concrete base to reference local stories or branding.

A seamless blend of strength and natural elegance

The Nazareth Suite is a versatile modular seating solution that can be configured in multiple ways to suit a multitude of places and purposes.

Use individual benches and cubes as stand-alone elements or connect and configure them to set the scene for shared moments outdoors.
