

Pandanus™ Modular Shelter

Inspired by nature. Designed for place.

A flexible modular shade solution that helps create comfortable, inviting outdoor environments where people can gather, connect and linger longer.

Introducing Pandanus™

Shade that helps shape place

At Urban Effects, we believe great outdoor spaces do more than serve a purpose. They bring people together, support wellbeing and create opportunities for connection. The Pandanus™ Modular Shelter has been designed to do exactly that.

Shade That Shapes Place

More than a shelter. A design opportunity.

Pandanus™ is more than a shade structure. It is a statement in placemaking.

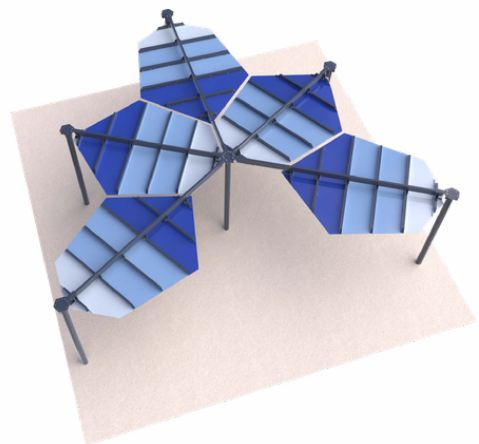

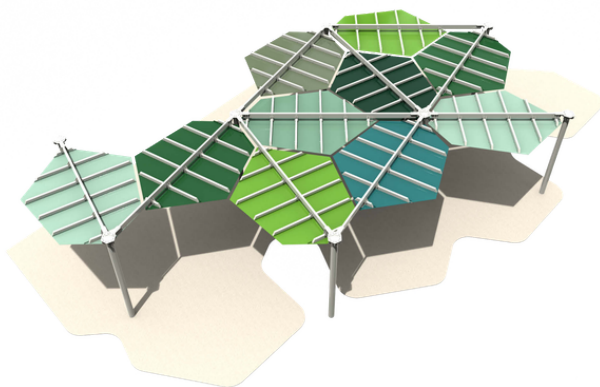

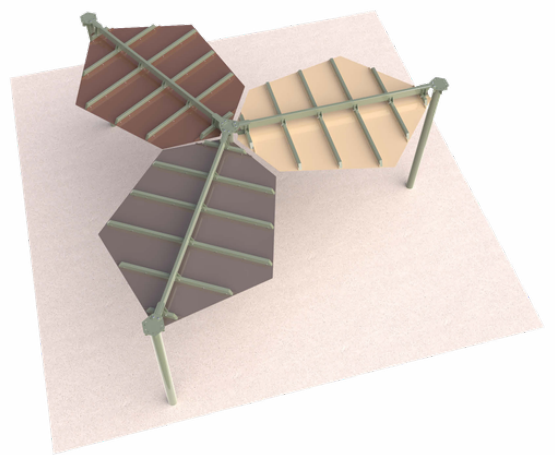

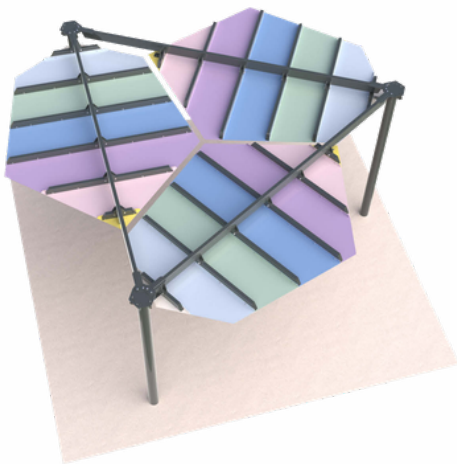

Drawing inspiration from nature, its sculptural form creates inviting outdoor spaces while delivering the durability and performance needed for everyday use. It is a modular system that enables designers to create outdoor spaces that are functional, visually distinctive and tailored to their environment.

Our Shelter Collection

Shelters designed for New Zealand places.

Outdoor shelters play an important role in creating comfortable, usable spaces that people can enjoy throughout the year.

Our experienced team of outdoor space specialists combine a big-picture view with an eye for detail and a network of trusted partners to support you in planning, designing and building an outdoor space that's right for your project.

From the initial concept, we can help you with layout, equipment and customisation recommendations that ensure every element contributes to a cohesive, functional and memorable user experience. That's the Urban Effects difference.
